

Next EuroSEAS Conference

11–14 August 2015 in Vienna

The European Association for Southeast Asian Studies (EuroSEAS) will hold its next conference from 11 to 14 August 2015 in Vienna, Austria. The event will be organised by the Department of Social and Cultural Anthropology at the University of Vienna, in cooperation with the Institute for Social Anthropology at the Austrian Academy of Sciences and other academic institutions based in Vienna. Scholars and PhD students from all academic disciplines with a research interest in Southeast Asia are invited to participate. The call for panels has been announced via the EuroSEAS website and is open from early April until 30 September 2014.

(Cornell University)

Ayu Utami
(Komunitas Salihara)

EuroSEAS is the world's largest organisation dedicated to the study of Southeast Asia, and our previous conferences — most recently Lisbon 2013, Gothenburg 2010 and Naples 2007 — have attracted hundreds of participants from Europe, North America, Asia, Australia and beyond. EuroSEAS is a famously open, friendly and non-hierarchical gathering. Please join us in 2015 for what promises to be another superb conference in a fabulous city.
